The Dalton & Lark portion of West Mountain district is witnessing more activity and advancement this fall and winter than for several years past, and a number of properties in that locality are showing up well with development, among them being the group owned by the Illinois Mining company of Provo, the Illinois Mining company of Provo, the property being in the neighborhood of such mines as the Keystone, Fortune and Congor, all of which are producers of high-grade copper and lead and silver ore, the Congor being especially hoted for its deposits of copper, which runs way up in value.

The Illinois is in the immediate vicinity of the Congor, and it is reported that in the workings of this property, in the face of the tunnel being driven in its development, a fine body of copper-bearing ore has been uncovered of inte, the metal showing black oxides, while a portion of the vein carries mineral very closely resembling gray car-200 Sunsine at sec.

The governing board of the mining exchange held a long session yesterday, and there is every reason to believe that the business transacted by that body will meet with the bearty appro-bation of the members of the exchange, some of the resolutions adopted looking to the advancement of the interests of the association along lines which will advance and promote business transac-tions on the floor. That section of the mountains contingent to the junction of Miner's and Beaver basin and the north fork of Mili creek runs largely to a copper ore, but running through this section and apparently continuing south, into the middle division, where the Clark mines are located, runs a belt of quartz porphyry, carrying gold and silver, with no base metal, and it is along this belt and its extension, north of Miner's basin, that some of the finest gold prospects are seen.

Monb, Utah, Dec. 5.—While there has been less talk about the La Salle mountain mining district the past few months than of many districts with less favorable showing, the district has been coming slowly but surely on to a firmly established basis, and another season will make it a producing camp. There has not been a hole driven twenty-five or more feet into solid formation in the mountains the past season tint has not given the promoters a good showing, and in many cases has proven beyond a question of doubt the existence of rich ore bodies.

He has satisfied himself he has a mine, and will continue the work as soon as snow will permit in the spring.

Developed Some Strength.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Wheat opened weak and lower. Liverpool news overstadowed everything else at the immediate opening. That market showed declines ranging from $5 to lad, a very emphatic response to yesterday's weakness in this market. Its effect was marked, though not very lasting. May opened at $65,000%, but almost immediately jumped to $6. Itself the market hung for a time, with quite a fair business transacted. December in the meantime developed great strength. Opening at $6 lower at $65,000%, the market advanced very quickly, the price reaching $14 before a half was called by the scalpers, who saw too much profit in sight to avoid realization.

On account of the show of strength by December it was said that as fast as wheat is being delivered on Hecember contracts it is being ordered out all rail by shippers. Indications $62 a failing off in farmers deliveries in the northwest, long looked for, also encouraged buying.

After the first buying furore had been satisfied the market became duil, but brightened up again on the clearance figures, all classes of traders coming into the market. The buying enthusiasm was somewhat checked by the closing cables, which showed weakness in all foreign markets, but the reaction was slight, shorts taking advantage of any dept $5.00 to cover. May closed at $65, and December $675.

Corn was dull and heavy during most of the session. The traits was market as uninteresting as oats, offerings were small, notwithstanding another heavy run of hoss. The range of prices was very narrow. At the close May perk and lard were $25 cents higher and May ribs unchanged.
